U. P. CHURCH HISTORY

BY REV. F. O. ROSS.

Of the living members of the congregation, there is only one who has been a member over 55 years, Mrs. Ruth Jackson Tarbox who united with the church on July 25, 1846. She also has the distinction of holding the longest continuous membership of anyone in the history of the congregation. The membership next to hers in length was held by Mrs. Rachel N. Tarbox, who became a member at the organization and at her death had been a member for 56 years and 3 months. On Christmas day of this year (1902) Mrs. Ruth Tarbox completed a membership of 56 years and 6 months.

Those who have been members less than 55 and more than 50 years, are Martin Barber who united May 15, 1848, Mrs. Hadassah Townsley Jamison who united on Oct. 2, 1848, Mrs. Esther Barber Townsley who united on Oct. 27, 1849 and Mrs. Mary Jackson Barber who united on March 29, 1852, or four in all.

Of those who have been members less than 50 and more than 45 years there are five, viz: S. K. Turnbull who joined on August 8, 1853, Mrs. Sarah Townsley Barber and Mrs. Nancy Winter who united on the same date, March 31, 1856, Mrs. A. B. Holmes who united on April 5, 1856 and Mrs. Catherine Turnbull who united on Sept. 7, 1857.

Of those who have been members less than 45 and more than 40 years there are but two, Alexander Turnbull who united on Jan. 9, 1858 and Mrs. Mary M. Barber who united in the early spring of 1862. The exact date is not known.

Of those who have been members less than 40 and more than 35 years there are five as follows: Mrs. Mary Johnson who joined on July 15, 1863, Mrs. M. A. Boyd who united June 10, 1865, Miss Nannie B. Nisbet who united on Sept. 8, 1865, Elen Archer who united on May 19, 1866, and Mrs. Emazetta Barber Bull who united May 11, 1867.

Of those who have been members less than 35 and more than 30 years, we find the names of nine persons as follows: Mrs. Cornelia Bradute who united on Jan. 11, 1868, J. M. Tarbox, Lucy Tarbox Barber, Josie Barber Crouse and Ora E. Bradute who all joined on April 23, 1870, Maria Tarbox who joined on Oct. 29, 1870, L. d. r. a. Keon Kerr and William McCampbell who each united with the church on April 29, 1871 and W. H. Barber who joined on Jan. 10, 1873.

And those holding their membership less than 30 and more than 25 years number eight and their names are John McCampbell, J. W. Pollock and Mrs. Nettie Anderson Pollock who all united on Sept. 24, 1875, Stella Barber Moore who united on Jan. 15, 1876, Sarah E. Mitchell who united Jan. 8, 1877 and Hugh A. Turnbull who united April, 12, 1878.

Without extending the list further, we discover that there are 13 whose membership lies between 20 and 25 years; 25 whose membership is between 15 and 20 years; 56 whose membership is between 10 and 15 years, and 79 whose membership is between 5 and 10 years. Of those who have been received in the last five years there are 62 names on the roll. While the average length of membership would be difficult to calculate, yet we find that the greater number date their connection in the later years. Only six per cent of the congregation hold a membership over 35 years; 9 per cent over 30 years; 13 per cent over 25 years; 18 per cent over 20 years; 27 per cent over 15 years; 47 per cent over 10 years; while 77 per cent hold membership over 5 years, in other words; 23 per cent have been members less than five years, 58 per cent less than ten years, 73 per cent less than 15 years, and 82 per cent less than 20 years, and the nearest approximate average of membership is between 10 and 11 years. In the families of the congregation there are 77 baptized children, who have not yet been received into communion, and the congregation contains 106 families. Of the present membership, we find that just 60 per cent were received on profession of faith and 40 per cent by certificate.

Another noticeable feature of the history is the increase and decrease in the roll of members. Starting in 1844 with 19 members it rapidly increased to 147 in 1849, then had a decrease and rose and fell slightly for some years, but did not surpass the former record until 1859 when the number reached 153. Then it gradually decreased again until 1864, when the roll showed 108. After that the growth was steadily maintained and the trend was upward until 1871 when it reached 153, then there was a decrease until 1875 when the roll dropped to 90. After that the growth began to be regular, steady and, without exception, increased each year until 1897 when the roll reached 260. Then a rapid decline for two years, dropping to 210, when another period of increase began, which has been steady and encouraging.

In the account of those who hauled the lumber for the old church, an error was made in stating that there were two still living: Gen. Robert Jackson who was in that company died April 10, 1877. He was an uncle to Robert M. Jackson who lives west of Cedarville. Mr. S. K. Turnbull is the only survivor of that company and recalls quite vividly the enjoyable and amusing features of the trip. Gen. Jackson was the chief transporter, or as he would have been called on the great plains "the boss freighter" of the party, and contributed his share of fun for the company.

DEATH OF DR. McMICHAEL.

Word was received here Thursday morning announcing the death of Dr. J. B. McMichael, pastor of the U. P. church at Bellbrook. The news was received somewhat as a shock to his many friends in this place for his death came very sudden and under peculiar circumstances. The Dr. had gone to his church on Wednesday evening to attend prayer meeting and after taking off his coat sat down, and in doing so slipped from the chair. He was assisted by a member of the congregation who found that he was close to death, but before a physician could be summoned the spirit had taken its course. Heart trouble was the cause of his death. The Dr's. wife and son Jamie were the only members of the family at home. Dr. McMichael was born in Jamestown, Pa., and was in his sixty-ninth year. He was president of Monmouth college from 1878 to 1898. From 1873 to 1878 was professor of church history and government in Xenia Seminary. A wife and four sons remain to mourn the loss.

OLD PLANTATION DAYS.

Old Plantation Days was given by Brockway Jubilee Singers. As the curtain rolled up it showed the company in dresses and suits which well have been worn amid the cotton fields and corn. They sang old melodies and hymns which even to-day may be heard in the South, and sung them with such pathos that the audience recalled the singers again and again. She whom they call the "Original Black Patti" sang "Away Down Upon the Suwannee River" and when she tried to leave the stage such an encore was given her that, stage manager or no stage manager, she was forced to come out and sing "Annie Laurie." And the stage manager once defied, the rule "No Encore" was broken, and that was why the line of carriages before the Auditorium stood half an hour later than they were ordered.

Mr. and Mrs. James Townsley gave their New Year's dinner to their children and grand children. About forty were present.

CORBIN, THE LUCKY MAN.

As announced, Mr. I. C. Davis held his drawing contest last Wednesday for the giving away of a rubber tire buggy to one of his patrons. A crowd assembled in the store during the afternoon and selected a committee to proceed as directed. This is how it was done. Messrs. Will Spencer and Albert Bridgman were to select a man outside of town, and telephone to him that he was to send three numbers back by telegram, the first to be the lucky number, the second only good providing the first did not show-up, and so with the third. Messrs. D. Bradute, James Townsley and George Smith were selected to accompany these two men to see their instructions were followed out to the letter. Wm. Neeld of Xenia, was selected and he telegraphed back the following numbers; seven hundred and seventy-seven; seven hundred and six hundred and fifty; six thousand three hundred and eighteen. It was not until evening when the winning number was presented, it being held by Nelson Corbin who lives on the Hagar Strav-Board property west of town, and is foreman in one of the department of that concern. Mr. Corbin is well pleased with his New Year's gift and extends his thanks to all who helped pay for it. The contest came off very orderly, not one word of complaint have we heard and Mr. Davis is complemented on the method used in giving away the prize.

ALFORD MEMORIAL.

An important purchase have been announced, one that will be of interest to all friends of the college and that is the purchase of the R. P. church property by Mr. W. J. Alford, of New York City. This purchase is a gift to Cedarville college as a memorial to the parents of the purchaser, Rev. and Mrs. John Alford of Beaver Falls, Pa. The property will be deeded the college some time this month and will be known as the Alford Memorial. The building will be used as a gymnasium and for athletic sports. Two basket ball teams will be organized as soon as possible. This is a very popular indoor game during the winter season and there is no reason why two teams could not be organized. The game was tried here several winters and proved popular with our people. This gift will be greatly appreciated by the college for it was just what was needed.

WINTER RACING.

The racing on the snow this year has not caused the usual excitement from the fact that there has been little chance for a close race. Chas. Weinert's Advisor had little trouble in leading the procession. M. W. Collins' Maple Bell Jr., showed considerable speed but he has had little training, and the driver could not hold him down. There were several other horses out but they were in a class to themselves. As a rule Cedarville always has interesting races on the snow and the winter sport is thoroughly enjoyed. On Thursday afternoon W. H. Owens' Rex was paced against Advisor.

SLEIGH CAPSIZED.

Only one accident has been reported so far in the sleighing line and that was last Monday night, when Mr. David Cherry and Miss Saydie Hille were thrown from their sleigh in the vicinity of R. C. Watt's residence. It seems as though Mr. Cherry had some trouble in keeping his horse from going into Mr. Watt's and when he used more stringent means to conquer the animal, it rebelled and began to free itself by kicking. Neither of the occupants were injured to any extent. Miss Hille sustained a slight bruise on the side of her head. It is said the sleigh was badly demolished.

POLITICIANS AND POLITICAL NEWS.

The following is from a little paper published up in DeGraff, O., and has considerable bearing upon politics in the neighboring Sixth District in general and in Greene County in particular:

Down in the Sixth Congressional District the Smith-Shoup ring of Greene County politicians are expecting to wake up Christmas morning and find that Congressman Hildebrandt has dropped the Xenia post-office plume into their stocking. All the while they are whetting a great big knife to stick into the Hon. U. S. Q's third term ambition, which they will present to him as a New Year's gift.

One of the most touching examples of faith in politicians' promises is in exhibition there, Congressman Hildebrandt is allowing the Smith Shoup gang to control the patronage of Greene County while they are all the time using that patronage to "throw the hooks" into Hildebrandt's third term ambition. Every bit of opposition to the Congressman's second nomination was instigated by Shoup, Dines and others, and acquired in by Judge Smith. The booming of Judge Smith by the Spring Valley Blade was to the suggestion of Marcus Shoup chairman of the executive committee of the county, and Smith, like Barkis, the "willie." And all the time Hildebrandt is letting them laugh at him as an "easy mark" by giving them control of the Greene County patronage.

The editor of the DeGraff paper is J. L. Lusk, and at the time referred to he was editor of the Spring Valley Blade, a Greene County publication. Shortly before the last Congressional convention before which Mr. Hildebrandt was to stand for a second nomination, this small paper began a series of tirades against the Congressman, and the confession which Lusk prints in his new paper is to the effect that he was induced to do this through Judge H. L. Smith, himself a Congressional aspirant.

It is said that a previous agreement between Hildebrandt and Smith had allowed the latter the control of Greene County patronage, an agreement which, if all that is said is true, has been distasteful to Mr. Hildebrandt, particularly in the matter of appointment of a postmaster at Xenia.

There has been a keen fight waged over the postoffice there, and Smith's man is his brother-in-law, J. F. Orr.

The present postmaster's term expired last June, and four aspirants have made things warm in the old town since that time. The confession of Lusk has created great interest among Republican politicians all over the Sixth District, and it is predicted that it will be the cause of Hildebrandt repudiating the alleged agreement which has kept him from making the appointment he desires.

—Springfield Press Republic.

The above only coincides with an article published in the Herald, Friday, February 21, 1902, under the caption "Victim of Misplaced Confidence." At that time the Herald charged Judge H. L. Smith with just what Editor Lusk has confessed which proves conclusively that we knew what we were talking about. Here is what the Honorable H. L. had published in the Spring Valley Blade as referred to the above confession. "Hon. Chas. Hildebrandt is neither a statesman, orator nor broad business man and he is no more fitted for congress than Hades for a powder house." To show a contrast with the above article we give what was published in the interest of Judge Smith. "Mr. Smith is a man of large culture, an able attorney, a good speaker, a man of unblemished private life, a man of state reputation, honest and fearless in maintaining his conviction, esteemed at home and respected and honored abroad, in fact a man large enough to grasp the progressive spirit of the twentieth century, and take a high place among the best statesmen of the country, in every way fitted for a prominent seat in our national legislature. In honoring Judge Smith with a seat in congress the Sixth District would at once become noted for having a member with brains instead of the mediocre timber we have been sending down to Washington the past few years."

When Hon. Marcus Hanna spoke in Xenia last fall during the campaign there was one assertion that was not fully understood by the entire audience but the politicians received the intended meaning, but never uttered a word against it. During the senators speech he made reference to Hon. C. Q. Hildebrandt who was on the stage at the time by this remark: "And I hope Charley will represent this district in Washington, as long as I am there." It is said that this was received like an electric shock by some of our politicians for he inferred that the present incumbent would be more acceptable than the timber that had already shown its self in this county. From all appearances it looks like the Judge's ambition for congress would not stand the sizzling effect of the fierce line light of publicity.

It will be but a short time now until the newly elected Dairy and Food Commissioner will take his office in Columbus and announce his appointments. Mr. Ankeney has been the most important man in state politics for some months, for the reason that he has control of about all the patronage that is worth fighting for in Ohio this winter. His several appointees will draw greater salaries than the Commissioner himself. The salary attached to this office is said to be inadequate for the services of an honest man, and the honesty of Mr. Ankeney has never been called in question, even by his enemies. He is not a man who will levy tribute on prospective law-breaking corporations.

GENUINE HOLIDAYS.

The holidays for 1902 have certainly been genuine, that is as far as winter pleasures are concerned. The six inches of snow, has made excellent sledding and coasting and the young folks have enjoyed themselves greatly. Thursday night the thermometer dropped several degrees below the starting point so that sleighers had rather a cold evening. In the social line there has been "little doing." Those who have come home for the holidays for a vacation certainly have not been disappointed, as there has been no great rush in the social whirl. Monday evening a few couples were entertained at the home of Miss Irene McGlellan. Tuesday afternoon quite a number of college girls enjoyed themselves on a sled ride. That evening some seven or eight couples of the younger set spent the evening at the home of Miss Nellie Turnbull.

A GOOD PENNY PAPER.

The Cincinnati Post has now been enlarged to ten and twelve pages and is the best penny paper published in Cincinnati. The new battery of presses enables the management to compete with any metropolitan paper published. It has its own news service, in fact it was the founder of the Scripps McKee news syndicate which controls thousands of correspondents and a hundred thousand miles of wire. The mid-night edition arrives here in time for the rural routes so while you are making out a list of papers for the coming year the Post can be put down as one of the best and most reliable papers that goes into homes along the rural routes.

The South Charleston Sentinel in the last issue gives the following: "A merry Christmas to all our subscribers, and may they live and prosper! And may some live long enough and prosper enough to 'pay up' some time."

OPENING OF THE COLLEGE.

Cedarville College will open January 6th at 9:30 a. m. Several new students are expected to enroll. Two new departments have been added. Prof. Fox of Columbus will have charge of the education department. He will give lessons in voice building, literary criticisms, composition, breathing, drilling, public speaking, etc. His fee will be ninety cents a lesson, if twelve lessons are taken. Prof. D. W. Stokes will have charge of the art department. He will give lessons in modelling, china painting, crayon, oil, water-colors, etc. Prof. Fox will begin work Wednesday morning, January 14th at 9 o'clock. Prof. Stokes will be here Jan. 6th to organize his class. Prof. Beazelle will have several new students in music. Her work will begin January 9th. Lessons for the term will cost seven dollars. The tuition and contingent fees in the college, for regular work, are eight and one-half dollars for the term payable on the opening day. Through the personal solicitation of Prof. McClesney, Mr. W. J. Alford of New York City has donated the old R. P. church and its grounds to the college as a memorial for his father and mother. This is a most valuable gift and greatly appreciated by the friends of the college. The next term will open with the brightest prospects for the college in its history.

MACHINERY ATTACHED.

Four writs of attachment have been gotten out by Messrs. Chas. Spencer, J. C. Barber, I. C. Davis and Milton Keyes against the drilling machine property at the paper mill, owned by Scott Bros. of Columbus. Checks of the following amounts were given by this firm and when returned to the market, Exchange Bank of Columbus they were refused from the fact that the firm had insufficient funds on deposit to honor them. -J. C. Barber, $9.50; Davis, $5; Keyes, $5; Spencer, $2.25. A telephone message from Columbus states that the firm will make good the amounts.

DYNAMITE CAP EXPLODED.

Mr. John H. Stine, an employee at the paper mill, was unfortunate last Sunday in losing the first joint of both finger and thumb of his left hand by the explosion of a dynamite cap. The cap had been brought to his house by Frank Gordon, who had found thirty-five in a load of coal which came from the paper mill. Mr. Stine, not knowing what the dynamite cap was, started to examine it with a hair pin, with the result stated above. The right hand was slightly injured. It was necessary to amputate at the first joint of the injured members.

DEATH OF PAULINE HARBISON.

Pauline, the seven year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Harbison, who reside about three miles from this place, died Monday evening about five o'clock, after an illness of several weeks suffering with that dread disease, typhoid fever. She was the pride of the home and the heart-broken parents will find it a great loss. One younger child remains. The funeral services were held at the residence, Thursday, and were conducted by Dr. Morton. Burial at the Massies creek cemetery.

TWENTIETH ANNIVERSARY.

The twentieth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Watt took place at their home south of town last Friday. A handsome set of one hundred pieces of white china was presented by near relatives and the dinner was served from them. This is a custom in the Watt family, that of celebrating the twentieth anniversary of the marriage of the brothers and sisters as the occasion falls due. Dr. John Watt and wife for Columbus was present, also the relatives living in this county.

SECRETARY FRAZER ADDRESSES MEETING.

If the number of persons that attend the meetings at the mayor's office in the interest of a young men's organization is to be taken as an expression from the public, the project is a failure and there is little use of spending any further time in that direction. A third meeting was held Monday evening with about the same persons in attendance as at the one the week previous. The sentiment expressed by those that attend and the interest taken shows that there are a few at least that will exert their influence and use all their power to complete a project that would be a great credit to our town. At this meeting a report from a committee on "constitution for a young men's league" was to be read but if we remember correctly only two members of this committee were present, and not even a report. Instead, the chairman announced that an address of information on a Y. M. C. A. would be given by Secretary Frazer of the Springfield Young Men's Association. In the address those who were present heard some very good points given, why a Y. M. C. A. would be of greater value than any other kind of an organization. The fraternal idea struck a popular cord with the auditors as was expressed latter in the meeting by each one present. Mr. Frazer is considered one of the best secretaries in this state and from his address one could see that he was well informed on the subject. Since the address on that evening it seems that the organization of a "Young Men's League" would be the improper thing to do, for at present it is almost unanimous that we have a Y. M. C. A. and the constitutional committee was instructed to bring in a report at the next meeting, which will be announced in due time. Unless more interest is taken in the cause it will be useless to expect any great amount of enthusiasm for the spring months will soon be at hand and those interested in the completion of this organization will find their task to be more difficult than if the work had been taken up in the early fall.

COMING YOUR WAY.

Frank A. Jackson, manager of the Cedarville opera house, has secured "Uncle Josh Spruceby," for Jan. 22, 1903. The farmer band show. This is the original and only Uncle Josh Spruceby company on the road and will be the best attraction ever in our opera house. Band and orchestra, novel street parade and the exciting saw mill scene. This company carries all its own special scenery. Everyone should go and see this attraction as the manager of our opera house has worked hard to secure such a company. Adults in gallery 35 cents, children 25 cents and all lower floor 50 cents. Remember the date, Jan. 22, 1903.

SPECIAL EDITION.

The Special Edition of the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN devoted to Transportation on Land and Sea, cannot fail to attract widespread interest, both because of the very handsome manner in which it is gotten up and on account of the voluminous amount of information that it contains. It is safe to say that any one that reads it carefully through will find himself thoroughly posted both as to the magnitude and high quality of our railroads and shipping. The SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN has its own characteristic way of presenting what some people might call dry statistical matter in an interesting form, and the present number is no exception to the rule. Both artist and Editor have collaborated to certainly very good effect, and we believe the number will meet everywhere with a hearty reception.

HOW RUSSELL SAGE WON SUCCESS

By Mrs. RUSSELL SAGE.

MR. SAGE'S lifelong rule to win success has been simple. Hundreds of people have asked him how he has managed to do so well. He always answers, "I'VE DONE THE BEST I CAN WITH THE LIGHT OF DAY."

THINK OF ALL THERE IS IN THAT. YOU MUST BE UP EARLY. GET ALL THE DAYLIGHT YOU CAN. WORK IN IT. SAVE IN IT. BE FAITHFUL IN LITTLE THINGS AS WELL AS GREAT, AND WHEN THE NIGHT COMES REST AND STRENGTHEN YOURSELF FOR THE NEXT DAY'S WORK.

There is the programme Mr. Sage has followed. Any young man may follow it and win fortune.

THE DANISH WEST INDIES WILL YET BE OURS

By Senator SHELBY M. CULLOM, Chairman of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations

WE SHALL EVENTUALLY BUY THE DANISH WEST INDIES. We shall certainly see that no other nation acquires title to them, and this doctrine we have announced to all the world. Neither will we pay more than the purchase price mentioned in the present treaty—$5,000,000.

WHEN THE "INS AND OUTS" GET THROUGH PLAYING PING-PONG WITH THIS TREATY AND USING IT SIMPLY AS AN INSTRUMENT TO FURTHER OR DEFEAT LOCAL POLITICAL ENDS, IT WILL BE RATIFIED AND THE SALE CONFIRMED.

The principal reasons that we care for the islands are that they lie somewhat in the path of commerce and that St. Thomas affords a coaling station that would be of importance to our navy, thus affording protection to Porto Rico, incidentally to Cuba and to an isthmian canal, whether constructed at Nicaragua or Panama.

THE DEMON COMMERCIALISM

By Dr. FELIX ADLER, President of the Society for Ethical Culture

IN the country all is harmonious and peaceful. What a contrast when we are suddenly whirled into the midst of a great city, with its clanging bells, rumbling cars, rattling wagons and those new horrors, the automobiles, threatening life and limb on every side and adding to the general pandemonium!

NEVER BEFORE WERE THERE SO MANY BIG CITIES AND SO MUCH FEVERISHNESS AND LACK OF PEACE ON THE PART OF THE INHABITANTS. WHAT IS ALL THIS JOSTLING AND PUSHING FOR BUT FOR MATERIAL ENDS AND WEALTH GETTING? THE WORLD SEEMS TO BE POSSESSED BY THE DEMON COMMERCIALISM.

When a church sets out to attract the wealthy, it has taken up commercialism. A church of rich people is no church at all. It is a commercial affair. Even in our philanthropy we find commercialism. When a man gives ostentatiously and for some benefit that he expects to receive, that is commercialism; but still the world gazes and lauds the man's seeming generosity.

THERE ARE MULTIMILLIONAIRES APPEARING IN OUR MIDST WHO TAKE SEATS AT THE TOP. THEY ARE MORE POWERFUL THAN THE MONARCHS OF OLD. The lawgivers aid them. Already we have virtually a sovereign rising before us. Is it any wonder that young men try to imitate the example of commercialism that is set before them?

But still there is hope. While commercialism is deteriorating to those engaged in it, it is stimulating to those bent on correcting the evil. Where there has grown up great wealth there has grown up great poverty. The latter is attracting students of social conditions, and the result can be but

This Will Fool Them.

Here is a very simple way to have fun enough to last all the evening. Try it yourself before you introduce it at a party:

Place the piano stool on the floor against the wall and stand away from the wall just twice the width of the stool. Now stoop down and take hold of the top of the stool with both hands, one on each side, and lean forward until the top of your head touches the wall, your back being almost horizontal.

What you have to do now is to lift the stool from the floor and stand up straight again. You can't do it.

You wonder why, of course. In taking the position described, you displace your center of gravity, and you cannot raise yourself to an upright position again without dropping the stool and giving the wall a push.

Let every boy in the company try this. They will all laugh at the idea of not being able to do so simple a thing, but let them try, and they will laugh "on the other side of the mouth."

Dislocated Her Shoulder.

Mrs. Johanna Soderholm, of Fergus Falls, Minn., fell and dislocated her shoulder. She had a surgeon get it back in place as soon as possible, but it was quite sore and pained her very much. Her son mentioned that he had seen Chamberlain's Pain Balm advertised for sprains and soreness, and she asked him to buy a bottle of it, which he did. It quickly relieved her and enabled her to sleep which she had not done for several days. The son was so much pleased with the relief it gave his mother that he has recommended it to many others. THE PRIVATE DETECTIVE.

He Is Denied the Sweetest of Praises and the Joys of Fame.

The work of a private detective is one of the most peculiar means of earning a livelihood in the entire category of vocations pursued by civilized men. What is more, doubtless not one person in a thousand has the remotest idea of the character or significance of this most singular outgrowth of ultra-civilized conditions. The detective connected with the police department is complimented by the press whenever he captures a gang of thieves or discovers an incendiary, but with the private detective the case is different.

Long before he embarks in the business he must, above all things, learn to deny himself the sweets of praise and the joys of fame. He must lay aside personal vanity, for his success lies not in forcing himself to the front, but in remaining as much as possible in the background. He need have no fear that customers will forget him, for, like a six shooter, a private detective is one of the things that when needed are required instantly—if anything, a trifle sooner, says the San Francisco Bulletin.

A modest sign, which the average well behaved and well conditioned person might pass every day for years without noticing, but which looms up as big as barn to the jealous wife who wants her husband shadowed, is all the advertising he needs. He need not be alarmed for fear his clients will not find his room and take a suit of large and conspicuous apartments in the front of the building he occupies, for when the man who is being bled and blackmailed starts out to hunt up a private detective he will find him if he has to get out a search warrant.

A Marvelous Invention.

Wonders never cease. A machine has been invented that will cut, paste and bang will paper. The field of inventions and discoveries seem to be unlimited. Notable among great discoveries is Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. It has done a world of good for weak lungs and saved many a life. Thousands have used it and conquered Grip, Bronchitis, Pneumonia and Consumption. Their general verdict is: "It's the best and most reliable medicine for throat and lung troubles. No Bogus Italian Counts.

American heires need have little fear of bogus Italian counts for the same reason that there is no limitation Italian wine; the real article is too cheap. The possession of a title in Palermo gives nothing great of itself, but its indispensable accompaniment is a carriage, horses and driver in livery. To maintain these on an income of next to nothing a year it is often necessary to eat macaroni and thick soup for a regular diet, do a great part of one's housework in gloomy, faded apartments and sit about in old clothes all day long. Then mother and daughter don their finery, the carriage is driven to the door, and it begins—the long, ceremonious drive to La Favorita and the Giardino Inglese.

Consumption

Salt pork is a famous old-fashioned remedy for consumption. "Eat plenty of pork," was the advice to the consumptive 50 and 100 years ago.

Salt pork is good if a man can stomach it. The idea behind it is that fat is the food the consumptive needs most.

Scott's Emulsion is the modern method of feeding fat to the consumptive. Pork is too rough for sensitive stomachs. Scott's Emulsion is the most refined of fats, especially prepared for easy digestion.

Feeding him fat in this way, which is often the only way, is half the battle, but Scott's Emulsion does more than that. There is something about the combination of cod liver oil and hypophosphites in Scott's Emulsion that puts new life into the weak parts and has a special action on the diseased lungs.

A sample will be sent free upon request.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

Sir Robert Lisburne in love with his young girl, handed her out of the house carefully, and the smile and the tiniest out for a moment or two before one of the petted stairs to her room, a look of great happiness.

"And is my dear girl?" said Sir Robert. Lisburne—she was talking—turned to him at last.

"Your dear girl," had her worries in her head one big worry.

"How big?"

Lady Lisburne wide to give an idea of the "But it's all over now, very happy."

"Perhaps," said Sir Robert, "she may be a young bride, flushing she is so contented that she want even to think of the next morning."

The next morning to the Engadine. It was later when they returned and portmanteaus with square and circular Hotel Bellevue and H. vage and a lot of other Robert and Lady Lisburne were very jolly and well.

There were letters Lady Lisburne. She had her bedroom. As she was on one of the new red and then she perused the letter again with hands trembling that looked into the frightened look. The off the electric light at knees and sobbed. To town for some days, out a good deal, visit Lady Lisburne looked sorts and scarcely spoke. He seemed to her coldness. Once Lisburne tried to rouse the look of worry back, and her husband even as he was, could not get it out of her.

One evening in the week Lady Lisburne at the open window her face resting on the railing into the square nothing.

A page boy entered with a letter. She took the typewritten words quickly the sheet in her hand. Robert came in.

"I want to say something," she said in her voice over to her. "I want to go away a few weeks."

"A few weeks?" blankly.

"A few weeks. I mean to be a miserable life, you must let me go, and when I come back, I shall be quite jolly, and more than ever, and I shall be perfectly untroubled by anything."

"Unfortunately I the young wife said."

"Or you wouldn't be posing such a pretence. Now, love, just you tonight and have a little rest."

"If you don't let me go, I shall never be able to do anything for myself and a misery my life. Do let me go."

"My dear love," rising with a very you absolutely refuse to do so. I am sorry to hear of your permission."

"Then I—then, without defiance, I shall be able to do it."

Sir Robert went to the hotel, smoking quickly. Then he went to the telephone and Lisburne, white as turned to her room for her journey.

It was a surprise find in the hall for the man for whom he was waiting. He was a man, and Sir Robert with him, "Thomas Bester & Co., Inquiry."

"Come into the Bester."

Mr. Bester was particular care. "You'd like perhaps?"

Mr. Bester went down and coughed that he didn't like whisky would be a bad luck. At said, this with a prepared for any interest of science.

Sir Robert on and gave instructions to be told where the hotel.

"We need a happens," said Lisburne, "and I am tired."

Horace Ankeney made an address of welcome. J. N. Wolford, of this place, was on the program Thursday afternoon for an oration, while Frank Young gave a declamation.

The icy streets in many cities have been the source of many humorous verses. Here is one from Saturday's Roller published at Canton: "A maiden fair, with sun-kissed hair, came tripping down the street; her face serene, her age 16—gee whiz, but she was sweet. On the sidewalk click she came down quick, with a jolt that shook her curls, but the words she used, must be excused—for she's one of our nicest girls."

It is said that there was some little excitement down about the depot last Monday morning upon the arrival of Prof. J. Robb Harper. The train had already pulled up to the station but the professor hadn't his ticket yet and for those around there was some amusement as the professor was scheduled to leave on the waiting train. The query comes as to whether one could reach West Superior, Wis., by touching Loudonville, O., without taking a very indirect route.

Auditor Dodds has appointed Mr. Zantmyer, son-in-law of E. P. Hoover to act as deputy in the absence of Deputy Auditor J. E. Collins who starts Tuesday for Arizona on account of poor health.

PRESERVED FOODS.

"The chief chemist of the department of agriculture," says Professor Winters of Baltimore, "has decided to investigate the methods of food preservation in this country. Only a short time ago Germany prohibited the use of borax in preserving meats. If people knew the processes which their meat underwent, they would hesitate about eating so much of it. Take corned beef, for instance. A flank of beef is put in a vat filled with a solution of borax, salt peter and hard water, and it is left to soak several weeks before ready to eat. What kind of a digestion could stand that? Almost all meats are preserved by borax. Salicylic acid, also used in preserving some things, is a powerful stomach destroyer, and there are other substances used daily by 'pure food dealers' that are equally destructive. A rigorous investigation, followed by a genuine reform, would vastly benefit the public health."—New York Tribune.

Loose Railroad.

Not long ago the state railway authorities in Melbourne, Australia, had to investigate a case of a guard's leaving his van, walking along the footplates, clambering up the engine and making a furious assault upon the driver, the train going at full speed all the while. They are now inquiring into another curious incident. In this case somebody forgot to fix the couplings between the engine and the train. When the signal was given, the engine steamed out of the station by itself, leaving carriages and passengers in the lurch. Guard, station master, porters and spectators yelled, but without effect. The engine ran for six miles before it was discovered that it had nothing behind it. The most disquieting feature of the incident was the fact that it passed several signal boxes without receiving any warning to stop.

A Mystery of the Trees.

One of the most puzzling questions in botany is, "Why or how does water rise to the top of a tree?" Various explanations of the phenomenon have been proposed, but none is regarded as altogether satisfactory. Dr. E. B. Copeland recently attacked the problem by means of interesting and novel experiments. For instance, he constructed an "artificial tree" of plaster of paris and found that water moved upward in it more than forty feet high. Yet he was unable to base any definite conclusion upon the results that he obtained. The water travels a large part of the way in a film, between bubbles on one side and the wall of the conducting vessel on the other. But the physical properties of the film are yet unknown.

Two Extremes.
In one of the cases he tried recently a New York attorney met with two jurors in succession who had opposite views on the subject of the death penalty. The first man called was asked:
"Have you any scruples against the infliction of the death penalty?"
"No, sir."
"What is your business?"
"Slaughtering."
The next man examined was asked:
"Have you any scruples against the infliction of the death penalty?"
"Yes, sir."
"What is your business?"
"Life insurance."—New York Times.

The Golden Rule.
Two men became engaged in a fight in the street. Instantly their hats went off and rolled in the dust. One of the men was entirely bald, and the other had a thick head of hair. The bald man seized the other by the hair and began to drag him about.
"Stop him!" cried a bystander.
"Why should you stop him?" asked another. "He's only practicing the Golden Rule."
"The Golden Rule? What do you mean?"
"Why, he's doing to the other man what he wishes to goodness the other man might be able to do to him."

Comparative Illiteracy.
Eight per cent of the population of this country is still illiterate. In Germany only 1 per cent of illiterates exist, and in Bavaria, Baden, Wurttemberg and Scandinavia there are no totally uneducated people.—Success.

Hair Falls

"I tried Ayer's Hair Vigor to stop my hair from falling. One-half a bottle cured me."
J. C. Baxter, Braidwood, Ill.

Ayer's Hair Vigor is certainly the most economical preparation of its kind on the market. A little of it goes a long way. It doesn't take much of it to stop falling of the hair, make the hair grow, and restore color to gray hair.

A Privilege in Peril.
Master—Jane, what is that terrible racket going on outside?
Jane—One of the children fell downstairs, sir.
Master—Well, you tell them that if they cannot fall downstairs without making so much noise I won't allow them to fall down at all.

A Timely Warning.
"Now, my child," said the deer mother as she selected a nice place for the little deer, "if you want to see the real thing in deer hunts, sit here by the roadside and be careful not to move or the hunter may take you for a man and shoot you." For the deer mother was up to date and read the daily papers.—Baltimore American.
